Technical questions:
1	Item 3.3.2 – would a Laser instead of LED lamp projector be acceptable?	Technically equivalent solutions based on laser technology will be deemed to be exceeding the minimum requirements therefore will be accepted as compliant.
2	Lot 3 Item 46: requested CP-8865-K9 model is end of sale, closest successor is CP-8875-K9, however, it does not have an expansion module. A secondary replacement would be DP-9861-K9 / DP-9871-K9, but these models have no Video Camera for Video calls. Please advise how we should process this item.	The technical specification for Item 46 requires a WiFi Video IP Phone compatible with the Contracting Authority's existing infrastructure, specifically ensuring interoperability with the currently deployed CP-8865-K9 devices. Please note that model CP-8865-K9 is cited as an example, not a mandatory requirement. Additionally, support for expansion modules is not a mandatory technical requirement for this item.
3	Lot 3 Item 47: considering situation with Item 46 this item requires your attention as well. If we offer requested CP-8800-V-KEM Module, it will not be compatible with Item 46, however, will be compatible with your currently in use CP-8865-K9 models. As alternative we can offer successor Module, but this will not be compatible with your currently used phones 8865 series. Please advise.	The technical specification for Item 47 requires an expansion module compatible with the video IP phones currently in use by the Contracting Authority (e.g., model CP-8865-K9). Please note that compatibility with any new video IP phones offered under this specific procurement procedure is not a mandatory requirement for this item.
